INTERESTING DEBATE IN THE COMMONS ON THE CORCORAN BILL.

Sexton Makes a Vigorous Speech Denouncing the Bill and Repelling the Accusations Against Him and His Colleagues—Healy Not Reinstated.

LONDON, APR. 18.—Col. King-Harman, the new parliamentary under secretary for Ireland, for the first time since his appointment answered interrogatories respecting Irish affairs. Upon rising he was greeted with cheers by the government supporters and groans and derisive cries by the Parnellites. He stated, in response to a question, that since March 1 only two tenants have been evicted from the Marquis of Lansdowne's estates. These two evictions, Parnell had provoked the eviction of sixteen tenants.

Mr. Sexton asked whether the government would consent to rescind the suspension of Mr. Healy.

Mr. Healy, first lord of the treasury, replied for the government that the duty they had to discharge on Friday night was most important. It would be utterly out of the question, however, when no apology had been given for this breach of the decency of debate to rescind the suspension of Mr. Healy. He said that the government were not prepared to do that, but that they would be glad to entertain without the general concurrence of the house.

COLORED CITIZENS CELEBRATE THE ANNIVERSARY OF EMANCIPATION DAY.

A Parade Despite the Storm—President Cleveland Reviews It—Interesting Exercises in the Evening—The Race in the Past and Its Future Prospects.

Yesterday the colored residents of the District of Columbia celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their emancipation from slavery. The morning was a most gloomy one and the rain fell in torrents; the weather was about as moist as Washington has ever seen. In spite of the chilly day the most enthusiastic followers of the colored people gathered on the streets at 10 o'clock. Many of the gentlemen were also wearing their drab and dingy garments and dripping head gear gave them a singularly sorrowful appearance. Most marshals, aids, sub-deputes, assistants, and acting assistants were in uniform, and the whole party shined like a mirror. The march was led by the colored people of the District of Columbia. ## AN IMPUDENT FORGERY.

Parnell's Analytical Dissection of the "Times" Letter.

London, Apr. 18.—The sensation produced by the publication of the Parnell letter has been so great that the specially large edition of the paper to meet the expected demand proved insufficient. The Times exposed special bulletins calling attention to the letter and sent extra supplies to the railway news agents and to the book stalls.

In an interview to-day Mr. Clancy, Parnell's attorney for Dublin county, branded the letter as an infamous concoction and declared that it bears internal evidence of forgery. He said also that suspicion was already directed against a certain person as the forger.

An Irish member of parliament departed for Dublin this morning to compare the handwriting in the letter attributed to Mr. Parnell with that of the person suspected.

The Parnellites all declare the letter an infamous concoction and a deliberate invention to publicly slander the leader of the home rule party. They say that even on the face of the letter it is evident that it was not written by Parnell.

Prof. George V. Coles then read resolutions, in which thankfulness for the improved condition of the race was expressed, and calling for a thorough and systematic high educational training.

Negro migration for any other than industrial purposes was denounced, and all reference to the principles of the Republican party was proscribed.

Prof. George V. Coles then read a paper entitled, "The Slave's Dream," written for the occasion by Mr. Seaman.

Mr. Parnell's speech was then read by Mr. A. St. A. Smith.

Prof. Gregory said: "It seemed eminently proper that we should conclude the day's proceedings with a reading of the letter."

He then read the letter, which was a full and complete exposure of the letter.

MEETING GLADSTONE.

MRS. EDMONS TELLS OF HER TALK WITH THE GRAND OLD MAN.

London, Apr. 18.—Mrs. Edmonds has been lying quite ill at Willard's Hotel during the past four days from a severe cold. Her room is on the fourth floor and faces on the avenue. Last evening she was seen by a reporter for the Standard. She related the circumstances of her election from the Standard Hotel at Ray and said, with considerable feeling:

"I wonder whether he got one or two thousand dollars from the professor for the treatment he gave me," referring to the professor who had been treating her. "I do not suppose Prof. Edmonds inspired his action," queried the reporter. "Yes, I know that my brutal treatment there was caused by him," she replied. "The professor's letter was a question whether he intended suing for divorce from Mr. Edmonds."
